

REQUEST FOR PROPOSAL FROM THE WORLD INITIATIVE FOR SOY IN HUMAN HEALTH (WISHH) FOR IN-COUNTRY REPRESENTATIVE FOR UZBEKISTAN

DATE

February 11, 2026

I. PROJECT OBJECTIVE

The In-Country Representative (ICR) will play a crucial role in bolstering WISHH market development efforts in Uzbekistan and the wider Trans-Caspian region. The future activities will be funded by U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) market development programs and may include organizing professional conferences; scheduling appointments for technical consultant visits; recruiting trade team members; managing animal feeding trials; providing trade servicing to importers, buyers and soy processors; helping with proposal development; and assisting with ASA/WISHH staff travel. The ICR will be serving as the primary relationship builder in Uzbekistan and the ‘face of U.S. soy’ in the marketplace. WISHH’s target audiences are leading animal feed millers, grain traders, livestock and fish producers, and associated industry and government stakeholders, as well as industry influencers in Uzbekistan. This is a part-time role of approximately 70 days for the calendar year 2026.

II. ORGANIZATION BACKGROUND

The American Soybean Association (ASA) was founded in 1920 by soybean farmers and extension workers to promote soy for high protein applications in developmental settings. Overseas activities initiated in the mid-1950s, and to date ASA has worked in over 80 countries. The World Initiative for Soy in Human Health (WISHH) was founded in 2000 to expand the work of ASA in developing and emerging markets to improve health, nutrition and food security, building the groundwork for future markets of soy. WISHH provides services in animal feed, aquaculture and human food technologies, business development, nutrition services, and program and proposal development.

WISHH connects trade and development to strengthen agricultural value chains in emerging markets, creating trade and long-term demand for U.S. soy. Trade can improve lives worldwide for both farmers and consumers. U.S. soy trade in emerging markets is pivotal to improve accessibility, affordability, and acceptability of high-quality plant and animal-sourced proteins in developing economies. Rising incomes in emerging economies generate further opportunities for trade. WISHH builds opportunities for long-term trade by improving agricultural value chains, human and animal nutrition, and farmer net incomes. WISHH initiatives broadly fit in two arenas: (1) trade-building long-term, early-stage market development, and (2) trade-building international agriculture and economic development. The St. Louis-based Program operates in sub-Saharan Africa, Asia and Central America.

WISHH has food and feed sector value chain building expertise accumulated from decades of international program implementation. Principal approaches include market and economic assessments, technical assistance and capacity building, human food and animal feed industry consulting, implementing feeding trials and demonstrations, organizing farmer field days, and market linkages.

WISHH achieves its mission by working in close partnership with: (1) the public sector (e.g., USDA, U.S. land grant universities, and host country governments), (2) the private sector (e.g., industry, trade associations: Qualified State Soybean Boards and U.S. Soybean Export Council), and (3) private voluntary organizations. The Program draws upon the resources and experience of these partners and the services of a cadre of WISHH consultants with technical expertise in agricultural, international, and commercial development. The Program takes pride in its growing portfolio of successes with U.S. government-funded projects, including USDA Food for Progress, McGovern-Dole, Foreign Market Development, Market Access Program, Emerging Markets Program, Regional Agricultural Promotion Program and Quality Samples Program funding in both prime and sub-recipient capacities. WISHH has also attracted both private sector and other complementary funding sources from various donors to build on and leverage core funding from Qualified State Soybean Boards.

WISHH's objective is to increase the international consumption of soy protein in the human, livestock, and aquaculture sectors in new markets and thereby create new opportunities for soy and higher economic returns to U.S. soybean producers.

III. SCOPE OF WORK

The selected contractor is required to be based in Uzbekistan. Working with ASA/WISHH St. Louis headquarters staff, the selected contractor would implement USDA and soy check-off funded activities. ASA/WISHH would allocate a certain number of days to implement each activity. Activities will be determined by funding levels. Experience working with Uzbek livestock and poultry producers, feed millers, oilseed processors, importers, buyers and trade associations is preferred.

Among other responsibilities, the In-Country Representative will:

- Build effective professional relationships with key partners to identify and address their unique challenges and opportunities for adopting U.S. soy proteins
- Ensure that each key partner receives the guidance and technical services necessary to successfully integrate soy proteins into their products and leverage the benefits of U.S. soy.
- Help connect prospective buyers to U.S. soy suppliers and distributors
- Assist with the trade lead process by reviewing the draft, then submitting the completed trade leads to WISHH for a final review and distribution
- Identify trade barriers, offer potential solutions and create market readiness opportunities for stakeholders and partners
- In collaboration with WISHH headquarters, coordinate every aspect of trade team missions technical trainings and workshops, from team participant recruitment to post-trip follow-ups.
- Coordinate technical assistance sessions between key partners and technical experts.
- Work with WISHH technical experts in poultry, dairy and aquaculture to ensure a cohesive strategy and address technical assistance requests in a timely manner

- Collect feedback and help evaluate the activity's impact, summarizing the results achieved in quarterly reports.
- Grow the reputation of WISHH among influencers in the Uzbekistan
- Liaise a variety of stakeholders including the public and private sectors to seek out partners that expand the WISHH network and programming in Uzbekistan.

You will be responsible for working within the approved budget and being familiar with the WISHH mission statement; WISHH's role in the U.S. soy export family; and able to effectively represent WISHH to partners in Uzbekistan. You will participate in periodic phone/virtual meetings with the WISHH Asia headquarters team.
